His versatility the Retell 570 office to make a modern communications center in the office. For voice messages and prompts a flash memory chip is built with a capacity for 120 minutes, leaving the crystal-clear playback with a professional business card on the phone. A voice mail system provides targeted individuals within the company by voice message or SMS as soon as they receive new messages.

Thanks to large graphic display and a clearly understandable menus are always designed to operate simply and clearly. In order for complex configurations - such as the clock-controlled activation message for each day - to ensure maximum ease of use, has the Retell 570 office via a USB connection and PC software for Windows.

On the PC can be easily and clearly define the settings and send SMS messages. Moreover, a significant advantage is the transmission of voice data. Such important records and recordings can be saved as a file on the hard disk will be archived on CD-ROM and sent as attachments via e-mail.

If present in the room playing the messages do not listen, an optional headset can be connected to the Retell 570 office. At the same time, the headset can be used for talks after a recall was initiated during message playback. For the easy control of playback, an optional footswitch can be connected. The Retell 570 office can also help to increase security: A dedicated alarm input can connect to it with a monitoring system or a button to trigger a silent alarm in an emergency by phone.
