Via so-called newsletter is available on request 2-3 times a year in-depth information and suggestions.

The convenience of use has not only a device-technical aspect, but also based on a substantive decision - the knowledge of the effect of the physical principle of resonance (see Global Scaling ®) and newer insights into the self-regulation ability of biological systems (salutogenesis).

How does the Dynamic cell stimulation with celinemed ®?

Dynamic stimulation with celinemed ® is a purely physical way to where to start many functional limitations - in the cell body.

Each cell and each cell group, each institution has its own frequency - a natural oscillation behavior. Cells with different functions thus differ in their frequency.

If these low-energy cells stimulated regularly with their original frequency vibrations, so they can improve their healthy functioning again. We feel an activation of the self-healing (we're talking about medical information / energy medicine).

For the transmission of these frequencies is used in the dynamic stimulation with celinemed ® an extremely weak pulsating magnetic field. This pulsating magnetic field is exactly the energy level of the cells.

Here are the organism more than 300 selected, precisely calculated cell and organ frequencies available (more at Global Scaling ®). Our cells go to these vibrations in resonance and can work again in their original, healthy self-oscillating behavior. We take this as regeneration of cells, organs (eg regeneration of the liver), true muscles of the body.

Dynamic cell stimulation acts in a border area between energy medicine and medical information. Dynamic stimulation with celinemed ® is ideal for supplementing with any kind of conventional or complementary medical treatment. The targeted restoration of self-regulation is the natural strengthening of health.
