Prinect Image Control

The quality control center for prepress and pressroom

Prinect® Image Control is the world's leading spectrophotometric measurement and control system for monitoring the entire printing process. The system's big advantage is that measurement is not restricted to the print control strip but covers the whole print image while at the same time providing automatic online control for all printing units. This minimizes color fluctuations and enables users to work with standardized, reproducible color values at all times. In conjunction with the Mini Spot® workflow, Prinect Image Control ensures reliable control of day-to-day print production. Detailed reports facilitate internal analyses and the provision of documentary evidence to customers. The color measurement system can be used for up to four presses at once.

Prinect Image Control is available for the Speedmaster® SM 52, Speedmaster SM 74, Speedmaster XL 75, Speedmaster SM 102, Speedmaster CD 102, Speedmaster CX 102, and Speedmaster XL 105.
